RESEARCH

Principal Investigator, University of Colorado Dept of Ophthalmology. Determine the incidence of elevated intraocular pressure after phacoemulsification at an academic institution based on quality assurance data, 2005-2006.

Principal Investigator, University of Colorado Dept. of Ophthalmology. Determine cause-effect relationship in delayed ischemic optic neuropathy after cataract surgery, 2004-2005.

Principal Investigator, University of Colorado Dept. of Ophthalmology. Evaluate microscope-induced retinal phototoxicity after cataract surgery measured by optical coherence tomography, 2003-2004.

Research Fellow, JABSOM Division of Ophthalmology, Department of Surgery. Jorge G. Camara, M.D. Evaluated the reliability of the Micro-Reflux Test in the diagnosis of partial nasolacrimal duct obstruction, 2001- 2002.

Research Fellow, JABSOM Division of Ophthalmology, Department of Surgery. Jorge G. Camara, M.D. Analyzed the effectiveness of using a radiofrequency unit for harvesting conjunctival autograft in pterygium surgery, 2002-2003.

Principal Investigator, JABSOM Dept. of Family Practice and Community Health. Examined health status of Vietnamese immigrants in Hawaii, 1999-2002.
